Publishers' Announcements.

For many years The New York Evening Post has contained more publishers' advertising than any other daily newspaper in the United States, and the excess is now greater than ever before, as will be seen from the following statement:

151,071 agate lines of publishers' advertising printed in THE EVENING POST from January 1, 1894, to December 22, 1894.

165 per cent. more than appeared in any New York morning paper, or in any paper in the United States, in the same period. In 1893 the excess was 116 per cent.

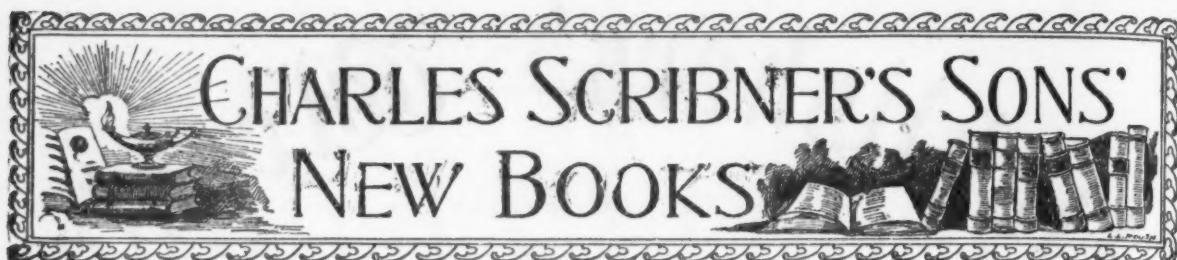

72 per cent. more than was printed in all other New York evening papers together in the same period. In 1893 the excess was 49 per cent.

In other words, The Evening Post from January 1 to December 22, 1894, contained 532 columns of publishers' advertising, and the largest amount printed in any other daily paper was 201 columns, and the amount printed in all other New York evening papers together was 309 columns—allowing twenty inches to the column.

Two conclusions may be drawn from this statement, the first that the publishers generally believe that there is one paper which pre-eminently appeals to the readers of good literature—those who buy books; and second, that the columns of The Evening Post afford a practically complete reference list of new publications, the paper having become in a sense the official medium for such announcements.

It may be added that in no other daily newspaper in the United States is so much space given to book reviews and other literary matter. The literary notes published on Monday of each week contain the announcements of new publications, and the notes are followed by reviews which are contributed by leading writers and specialists.

THE RELIGIONS OF JAPAN.

From the Dawn of History to the Era of the Méiji. 12mo, $2.00.

A book of peculiar value and interest at the present time. It is the first work devoted to Japanese religions and represents the results of years of special study and travel. In treating his interesting theme the author happily combines the critical and popular methods, avoiding technicalities and obscure terms, and presenting a lucid, scholarly, and thoroughly interesting history of the various Japanese faiths.

THE ELEMENTS OF ETHICS.

By JAMES H. HYSLOP, Ph.D., Instructor of Ethics, Columbia College, New York. 8vo, $2.50.

This new work, by the author of "The Elements of Logic," is an introductory treatise on theoretical ethics. It first gives a brief account of the history of ethics and then proceeds to analyze and discuss the various ethical questions and theories of to-day. The book is throughout suggestive and adapted in its character and arrangement to the needs of the class-room.

RHETORIC: ITS THEORY AND PRACTICE.

By AUSTIN PHELPS, D.D., Late Professor of Sacred Rhetoric in Andover Theological Seminary, and HENRY ALLYN FRINK, Professor of Logic, Rhetoric, and Oratory in Amherst College. 12mo, $1.25 net.

The basis of this work is the late Professor Phelps's "English Style in Public Discourse." The charm of Professor Phelps's style and the clearness of his statements unite with the abundant illustrations and practical exercises based on Professor Frink's long experience as a teacher of both Rhetoric and Oratory in making the book the most desirable one, it is believed, on this subject.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE MIND.

By GEORGE TRUMBULL LADD, Professor of Philosophy in Yale University. 8vo, $3.00.

Professor Ladd's book is a treatise on metaphysics in the more special meaning of the term, and concerns itself with certain problems suggested but not usually discussed in the course of an empirical study of mental phenomena. It therefore appropriately follows the earlier works of the author, which deal with psychology proper.

JUST READ Y.

HERBART AND THE HERBARTIANS.

By CHARLES DEGARMO, Ph.D., President of Swarthmore College. Great Educators' Series. 12mo, $1.00 net.

In this book President DeGarmo, who is well-known as one of the most profound students of Herbart, has given, for the first time in the English language, a systematic analysis of the Herbartian theory of education. Not only does the volume contain an exposition of the theory as expounded by Herbart himself, but it traces in detail the development of that theory and the additions to it made by such distinguished names as Ziller, Stoy, Frick, Rein, and the American School of Herbartians.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE CENTURY CO. has just ready Dr. Albert Shaw's "Municipal Government in Great Britain," an account of the systems in vogue to-day in the leading cities of England and Scotland. The work is based on Dr. Shaw's studies of London and Glasgow, first published in The Century. The author's method is wholly comparative, and the facts given hold good in all large cities. Another volume dealing with continental cities is already in preparation.

HENRY ALTEMUS, Philadelphia, has just ready "Annie Besant: an autobiography." The writer, who has been successively a Christian, a theist, an atheist, a materialist, a socialist, and now a theosophist, has for many years been a prominent figure in the ranks of advanced thinkers. She wields a trenchant pen, and no doubt the story of her life will be interesting, if not instructive reading.

HENRY HOLT & CO. will publish at once Kálidásá's Sanscrit drama, "Sákuntalá," translated by Prof. A. H. Edgren, of the University of Nebraska; "A History of the Novel Previous to the Seventeenth Century," by Prof. F. M. Warren, of Adelbert College; and Nevinson's "Slum Stories of London" ("Neighbors of Ours"), which will appear in the Buckram Series, uniform with "The Prisoner of Zenda." Competent critics compare Mr. Nevinson's delineation of coster character favorably with that in Kipling's "Badalia Herodsfoot," and that in Chevalier's ballads.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have just ready two novels sure of a large number of readers—Anna Katharine Green's new detective story (in the Autonym Library), called "The Doctor, His Wife and the Clock," which shows the old skill of the author of "The Leavenworth Case;" and Justin Huntly McCarthy's new story, "A Woman of Impulse," which will form No. 4 of The Hudson Library. They have also just ready "Three Men of Letters," by Moses Coit Tyler, already fully described in these columns, and an attractive edition of Richard Le Gallienne's "The Book-Bills of Narcissus," a book of delightful literary flavor.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish at once George Augustus Sala's long-expected reminiscences. The work comprises a racy narrative of Mr. Sala's varied personal experiences through a long and active journalistic career. His vocation carried him to the central point of interest in the great European events of the last fifty years, and brought him in contact with famous statesmen, diplomats, soldiers, artists, actors, and literary men, of whom he gives graphic portraits and tells many entertaining anecdotes. They have also nearly ready, under the title of "Rhetoric—its theory and practice," a condensed edition of the late Prof. Austin Phelps' well-known work, "English Style in Public Discourse," condensed, revised, and supplemented by Prof. H. A. Fink, of Amherst, in a manner to adapt the work for general use as a text-book on rhetoric; also, a new work just completed by Prof. George T. Ladd, of Yale, devoted to speculative discussion and the philosophy of the mind, entitled "Philosophy of the Mind." Prof. Ladd's book is a treatise on metaphysics in the more special meaning of the term, concerning itself with certain problems suggested but not usually discussed in the course of an empirical study of mental phenomena. It therefore appropriately follows the earlier works of the author, which deal with psychology proper.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no prices, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. 4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl. nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Barber, G. M. A guide for notaries public and commissioners, being a complete handbook of their powers and duties, cont. all necessary forms and instructions, [etc.] 3d ed., rev. and imp. Cleveland, O., G. M. & A. W. Barber, 10 Wick Block, 67 Public Sq., 1894. c. 151 p. D. cl., $1. [30]

Belloe, M. A., and Shedlock, M., eds. Edmond and Jules de Goncourt, with letters and leaves from their journals; comp. and tr. by M. A. Belloc and M. Shedlock. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., 1895. 2 v., 6+244; 6+246 p. O. cl., $7.50. [31]

An account of the life and work of Edmond and Jules de Goncourt, brothers who formed a rare literary partnership and who have remained closely associated in the mind and judgment of the public, although the younger of the two has been dead for nearly a quarter of a century. Their diaries contain impressions and anecdotes of the many prominent literary men of France of the last half century, and also many interesting details of the novels and works of historical research which they produced.

Bevan, Wilson Lloyd. Sir William Petty: a study in English economic literature. Balt., Md., American Economic Assoc., 1894. c. [1895.] 4-102 p. O. (Publications of the society, v. 9, no. 4.) pap., 75 c. [32]

Sir William Petty was a celebrated English statistician and political economist, born 1623 and died 1687. His chief works are: "Treatise of taxes and contributions," "Political arithmetic," "Essay concerning the multiplication of mankind," "Down Survey of Irish lands," etc. This monograph was prepared because the writer believed Petty deserved more attention than he had hitherto received. It gives a very full account of the life, writings, etc., of Sir William Petty. A list of works used or referred to covers a page. Bibliography of the printed works of Sir William Petty (3 pages).

school. Shortly after she was thrown from her horse. She is supposed to have received spinal injuries. In 1866 she suffered from acute lung trouble and her case was deemed hopeless. She since has been subject to spasms and trances, has lost the sense of sight, hearing, and touch, but seems to have received a power of second sight and double and even sextuple consciousness. The book is made up of the testimony of many who have studied her case. She is still alive and her condition remains about the same. The proceeds are to go to Miss Fancher.

Damon, Fannie A. Heart treasures. [Poems.] Authors' ed. Buffalo, N. Y., C: Wells Moulton, 1894 [1895.] c. '94. 2-64 p. S. cl., $1. [46]

Dennis, Ja. Teackle. On the shores of an inland sea. Phil., J. B. Lippincott Co., 1894 [1895.] c. 2-79 p. il. D. cl., 75 c. [47] Describes a voyage to Alaska from San Francisco, and a visit to some of the chief ports of Alaska.

De Puy, W. H., D.D. Threescore years and beyond; or, experiences of the aged: a book for old people: describing the labors, home life, and closing experiences of a large number of aged representative men and women. New ed. N. Y., Hunt & Eaton, [1895.] 3-550 p. il. O. cl., $1.75. [48]

The single purpose in the preparation of this book has been to present, in condensed and convenient form, an instructive, encouraging, and comforting record of the experiences of a large number of representative old people without respect of religious denomination or professional life. They are grouped in classes according to their experiences or professions. The type is large and the page open and easily read. First published in 1871.

Donahoe, D. J. In sheltered ways. [Poems.] Buffalo, N. Y., C: Wells Moulton, 1895. c. '94. 3-72 p. S. (Lotus ser., no. 1.) cl., $1. [49]

This book is arranged on an original plan for the recordings of names, facts, and dates, which, as the pages are being filled out, will form a complete record of any family, giving the present generation in full with all its direct relationship, also pages for the future (grandchildren) and the past, thus following up the line of ancestors for eight generations.

Farrar, F. W. (Canon.) St. Winifred's; or, the world of school; with il. by Gordon Browne. [New ed.] N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1895. 435 p. il. 12°, cl., $2. [51]

Ford, Ja. L. The literary shop, and other tales. N. Y., G. H. Richmond & Co., 1894 [1895.] 6+298 p. D. cl., $1.25. [52]

Keen-edged sarcasm, blended with good-natured humor, is brought to bear upon "the literary shop" in which American authors are obliged to sell their literary wares. Mr. Ford begins with the Ledger period of letters, then criticises the early years of Scribner's Magazine under J. G. Holland, and finally classifies the methods of running the literary shop in all our great magazines. The "other tales," of which there are ten, are full of subtle irony and quaint humor. Mr. Ford starts with the idea that magazine literature is manufactured, and brings in the vocabulary of foundries, machines, skilled labor, strikes, etc.

Gatty, Marg. Parables from nature; with a memoir of the author, by her daughter, Juliana Horatio Ewing; il. by P. H. Calderon, W. Holman Hunt, Otto Speckter, [and others.] N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1895. 18+492 p. 12°, cl., $1.75. [53]

General digest of the decisions of the principal courts in the United States, England, and Canada. Refers to all reports, official and unofficial, first published during the year ending Sept., 1894, including the L. R. A., the I. S. com. and the U. S. sup. court reports, L. ed. Annual, being v. 9 of the ser. Rochester, N. Y., The Lawyers' Co-op. Pub. Co., 1894. c. 8+3070+84 p. O. shp., $6. [54]

Greene, Millen Sanford. Around the hearth, and other poems. Buffalo, N. Y., C: Wells Moulton, 1894 [1895.] c. '94. 3-115 p. por. S. cl., $1. [55]

Greenwood, F. Imagination in dreams, and their study. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1895. 198 p. 12°, cl., $1.75. [56]

Griswold, J. Handbook of adjustments of loss or damage by fire for the use of fire underwriters. 3d ed., rev. and enl. N. Y., Insurance Monitor Office, 137 B'way, 1894. c. 178 p. S. cl., $1.50. [57]

Hackländer, F. W. Der geheime agent, lustspiel in fünf Aufzügen; ed. with an introd. and notes, by E. L. Milner-Barry. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1895. 15+176 p. 16°, cl., net, 90 c. [58]

Hermann, Paul. Das leben des Fürsten Bismarck: eine geschichte der wiedergeburt der deutschen nation. Chic., Fred. Klein Co., [Julius Salomon & Co.,] 1894. c. 382 p. il. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c. [59]

Notwithstanding the numberless volumes devoted to Bismarck the author claims there is still room for a cheap biography, well printed on good paper, which, written on free soil, can tell the story of the making of the German empire without any political coercion. He ranks Bismarck with Frederick the Great, and makes a telling comparison of the work accomplished by these heroes of two centuries. The many Germans who came to America in the midst of the events with which the author deals in excellent German will appreciate the immense work he has put into these gleanings from the Bismarck literature which covers half a century.

Hintz, W. Bertha. Illustrative blackboard sketching. N. Y. and Chic., E. L. Kellogg & Co., [1895.] c. '94. 2+53 p. obl. S. leath-ette, 30 c. [60]

The author is a teacher of and lecturer on methods in drawing, and late of the New York Normal Art School. The book contains reproductions of her sketches, with stories that grow as the black-board drawings grow, and which the learner may draw for practice. The objects are fruits, birds, vegetables, pottery, etc. Teachers will find in this book just the help they need.

Hugo, Victor. Ruy Blas; ed. with introd. and explanatory notes, by S. Garner. Bost., D. C. Heath & Co., 1894. c. [1895.] 23+230 p. D. (Heath's modern language ser.) cl., 75 c. [61]

This play, while it is the most highly interesting of Hugo's dramas, is likewise the most difficult to interpret. The text swarms with words and historical allusions which need explanation, but which former editors seem to have overlooked. Keeping in mind both the teacher and learner, the editor has endeavored to clear up all these points by copious notes.

Jebb, Mrs. J. Gladwyn. A strange career: life and adventures of John Gladwyn Jebb, by his widow; with an introd. by H. Rider Haggard. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1895. 24+349 p. por. D. cl., $1.25. [62]

This biography, written by the widow of John Gladwyn Jebb, reads like the inventions of Jules Verne, Rudyard Kipling, or Rider Haggard. The latter knew Jebb and travelled with him in the United States. Mr. Jebb was an Englishman, born in 1841, and died in 1893. He began life in the English army, but soon grew tired of discipline. Sheep-rearing, mining, tobacco-planting, coffee-growing, treasure-hunting, etc., took him to all parts of the world. He was actively engaged in the formation of the White Star Line Steamship Co. Had strong leaning to occult science, and studied theosophy under Madame Blavatsky. Was a warm-hearted, generous gentleman.

*Johnson, S.: Life of Swift; with introd. and notes, by F. Ryland. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1895. 12°, (Bell's English classics.) cl., 40 c. [63]

Kellogg, Alice M., ed. New Year and midwinter exercises: recitations, quotations, author's birthdays, and special programs for celebrating New Year and midwinter days in the school-room. N. Y. and Chic., E. L. Kellogg & Co., [1895.] c. 4-96 p. D. pap., 25 c. [64]

Kellogg, Amos M. Forty lessons in clay modelling. N. Y. and Chic., E. L. Kellogg & Co., [1895.] c. '94. 52 p. il. D. leatherette, 30 c. [65]

It is the design of this little book to show how pupils may begin, with very simple forms, to model in clay and advance to those that are quite complex. Mr. Kellogg is indebted largely for the cuts and descriptive work to a book by Dora Pearce, a London kindergarten principal, but changes and restatements have been freely made to adapt it to practical school use. The introduction contains brief instructions as to tools and the best way to begin work, and then follow directions as to the modelling of objects.

Krieger, G: E., M.D. Blood serum therapy and antitoxins. Chic., E. H. Colegrove & Co., 1895. c. 68 p. il. D. cl., net, $1. [66]

Chapter 1 gives a history of blood serum therapy, and the other three chapters are devoted to "Toxins and toxalbumins," and the use of antitoxins in diphtheria and tetanus. The author is surgeon to the Chicago Hospital.

*Lee, Sidney, ed. Dictionary of national biography. V. 41, Nichols-O'Dugan. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1894. 455 p. 8°, cl., $3.75. [67]

*Massachusetts. Supreme judicial ct. Reports, 161. Mch., 1894-June, 1894. G: F. Tucker, rep. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1894. c. 18+692 p. O. shp., $3.50. [68]

This play has been presented in this country by the Kendals. Its scene is laid in London in the first act, and afterward in Surrey. Mrs. Tanqueray is a woman with a past, married to a man of wealth and family, who tries in vain to forget and make society forget her tarnished reputation.

A treatise on parliamentary practice, which fully sustains itself as a guide and book of reference for the club member. It is thoroughly practical — its statements being so direct, concise, and clear as to be fully understood by those just initiated into club relationships; and yet the advanced sections of the book being sufficiently comprehensive to class it as a manual for the experienced and efficient officer of any deliberative body.

Protestant Episcopal church hymnal; rev. and enl. in accordance with the action of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America in the year 1892; ed. by Rev. C: L. Hutchins. Bost., The Parish Choir, [D. B. Updike,] 1894. c. '79-93. 48+804 p. 4°, flex. leath., $5. [77]

For years the musical edition of the Hymnal, edited by Rev. Charles L. Hutchins, of Concord, Mass., secretary of the House of Deputies of the General Convention, has been adopted by the P. E. Church. This hymnal has now been revised, all the new hymns added, and organ music provided for all. The use of copyright music has been allowed by all who furnished it for the hymnal. Mr. Hutchins' indexes are specially valuable. There is an alphabetical index of first lines, giving authors of hymns, source and date of writing, and the name by which the tune is known; an alphabetical index of tunes with their metres, composers, sources, and hymns which are sung to them; an alphabetical metrical index; an index of subjects; and an index of hymns arranged by church seasons. The accurate marking of expression and difficulties in the musical text may almost take the place of a choirmaster, and the book is specially fitted for organists obliged themselves to train choirs. The book is beautifully printed and handsomely bound, and the price is fabulously cheap for value offered.

- Shaw, Albert. Municipal government in Great Britain. N. Y., The Century Co., 1895. c. 8+385 p. O. cl., $2. [84]
- The book is written from the point of view that life in cities is the lot assigned to the majority of this generation and its immediate successors. The present volume and the one to follow propose to give a comparative account of municipal administrations, their methods and their results in the chief capitals, and the typical industrial and commercial towns of Europe. The problems to be solved are similar in all their essential characteristics, regardless of national distinctions, and Americans can learn much from European experts. The author claims science can meet and answer all these problems. Administrative, statistical, engineering and technological, sanitary, educational, social and moral science can order the life in dense population groups. The next volume will deal with continental towns of Europe. The book is not controversial, but wholly comparative.

- A concise representation by question and answer of Buddhism, according to the Ceylonese Pali manuscripts of the Tipitakum. Contains only fundamental outlines of Buddha's doctrine, all legendary, mystic, and occult additions of his teachings being omitted. Compiled for those who are seeking neither lifeless dogmas nor results of science, but a doctrine free from all dogmas and forms, in accordance with nature and her laws, embracing the highest truths, equally satisfying to mind and heart. The answers to 174 questions embody this doctrine. A running commentary of footnotes explain the accurate meanings of the terms employed.

- The first edition of this 'history appeared shortly after the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the college, and was entitled "History of Amherst College during its first half century, 1821-1871." The present new edition has been written and revised with particular reference to two objects, viz: first, the continuation of the history so as to include the close of Dr. Stearns' presidency and the entire administration of President Seelye, thus making it a history of Amherst under its first five presidents; and second, at the same time to abridge the work and make it a smaller and less costly volume, which should be within the means of every graduate. The omissions have been the biographical sketches of the founders and benefactors, the trustees and faculty, and the personal contributions of alumni of the college.

- The writer is Professor of Economics and Social Science in the Leland Stanford Jr. University. He recognizes heredity, environment, social conditions, intoxicants, selfishness, sickness, all inextricably interwoven as some of the innumerable causes of pauperism. He traces the origin of philanthropy among heathen nations. He analyzes proposed methods of relief, and shows by carefully prepared tables what influences tend toward deepening degradation and what tend toward elevating and improving the poor. His tone is optimistic and wholesome. The practical suggestions would save millions of dollars. A full bibliography, showing how wide is the author's reading, covers eleven pages. His facts are made serviceable by a remarkably well-made index.

- The story of the mutineers of the Bounty has often been told before; sometimes fairly well, at other times incorrectly, or in an exaggerated way. The present work is written by a native of Pitcairn Island, and one who has practically spent her whole life on the island. While her lifetime does not cover quite one-half of the time covered by the history of the island, she had access for many years to one at least who remembered events that occurred before the beginning of the present century. Her father was the second oldest man of the community at the time of his death, and was a grandson of John Adams, one of the mutineers. She relates the history of the island in a graphic way from the events connected with the mutiny to the present day.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JANUARY 12, 1895.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, must reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE VALUE OF "STOCK-TAKING."

THE trade has again reached the season dreaded by the thoughtless and timid as the most unprofitable one of the year—namely, that of "taking stock." At the risk of repeating ourselves, we take this occasion of pointing out to those who may regard it in an unfavorable light that though this operation may not bring with it any immediate profit, it must nevertheless be borne in mind that "taking stock" is an important factor, if not the most important, at a business man's command in the prevention of loss, inasmuch as it opens the eyes to the actualities of the situation, and, when properly carried out, serves to check progress in the wrong direction.

"Stock-taking," conscientiously carried out, is an admirable aid to self-knowledge. Conducted in a sharp, cool, cold-blooded manner, in which the situation is considered from an impartial point of view, the operation will be apt to clear the head of the proprietor as well as his shelves of prejudices and mistakes—in short, will brush away the cobwebs that are likely to obstruct the mental vision of the stock-taker as well as the wheels of his business.

Not only must the actual depreciation of the stock be carefully considered and faced, but the status of the probable value of book debts carefully taken into account. Then when the items of rent, interest, commissions and salaries and sundry expenses are deducted may the profits be legitimately considered. This may be trite and commonplace information to many, but it is no secret that a large number of the smaller dealers give these details but superficial attention or ignore them altogether. Upon careful "stock-taking" depends the very life of business; why, then, should it be considered unprofitable!

We are now at work upon the "Annual Summary Number" of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, and remind the trade that their copy for advertising—which also is included in the appendix to the "Annual American Catalogue for 1894," without extra charge—should reach us at once. This number we believe to be one of the most useful of the year, and not least to the smaller publishers, whose lines are difficult to keep track of in any other way. It is the latter who lose most by not keeping themselves before the reading public and the booksellers, and we therefore urge upon all such whose books we cheerfully record through the year free of cost to them, to give us their proportionate contributions to the advertising pages of this number.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE, to which reference was made in these columns in November last, will, from present indications, be organized within a very short time. A committee is now engaged in making the final arrangements to call a meeting, probably before the end of this month, to officially organize the society and to elect the necessary officers and managers. With the organization of this League it is hoped will be begun an era of fellowship among the members of the book trade that may in time prove helpful in an educational direction as at the start it will certainly be enjoyable in a social one.

STATIONERS' BOARD OF TRADE.

THE eighteenth annual meeting of the Stationers' Board of Trade was held at the rooms of the Board on the afternoon of the 8th inst. The meeting was unusually well attended, and was opened by the president, Charles T. Dillingham, with the following remarks:

"The financial depression which has hung over the entire country for nearly two years, has, of course, been felt severely by our members, and has resulted in a great amount of business being placed in the hands of the Board, and I may congratulate you on the successful execution of the largest amount of business during 1894 that has ever been accomplished by the office force in any year since our organization. The report of the treasurer and executive committee will show the details of the volume of business passing through the office, and attention is called to the fact that the Board has paid up the loan it has carried for several years and has paid all bills due to the end of the year.

"The Bureau of Information contains so large a number of new and revised reports that it is no longer necessary for our members to use the costly mercantile agencies; for the Bureau not only gives equally reliable information concerning parties from their own locality, but in addition gives their standing with the New York members.

"The Collection Department possesses all the facilities of all other organizations, with the advantage that a large proportion of claims are collected by the mere notice that the claim will be sent to our attorney and the members of the Board notified of such action.

"The Failure and Assignment Department has made many settlements very favorable to our members, often increasing materially the amount proposed by the debtor, and, in some instances, collecting the full amount of claim, also recovering in some cases the expenses of collection from the debtor. In view of the efficiency of the board in caring for and prosecuting claims, it is hoped that our members will put all the claims in our own office, especially as the expenses are less than those incurred by the so-called collection agencies.

"The Arbitration Committee has not been called upon to act during the year. It is to be regretted that our members do not avail themselves more often of this excellent manner of settling disputes and disagreements in business, thus saving legal expenses and insuring a fair and equitable decision.

"The membership on January 1, 1894, was 171. During the year eleven new members have been elected, and we have lost eleven through resignations, failures, and through members going out of business, thus leaving our membership unimpaired and with one application pending.

"I trust that the year 1895 may be a prosperous one to our members and the business community generally, and that the losses of the past year may be fully recovered. In closing, I desire to thank the officers and employees of the Board for the support and interest they have shown in the furtherance of the business of the Board."

The executive committee, of which Henry C. Bainbridge is chairman, submitted the following report for the year ending December 31, 1894:

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.

The names in this department on our records up to January 1, 1895, number 51,012. At the present time we have reports of the standing and credit of 33,954 dealers; of which 3042 are reports of new firms added during the year 1894, and the balance reports of firms previously on our records. From January 2, to December 31, 1894, we have furnished to our members 24,307 reports. In 1893 we furnished our members with 22,088 mercantile reports.

Information (Reports) Applied For.

Inquiries of correspondents and agencies.....	13,550	13,821
Inquiries of dealers for statements.....	4,588	5,529

Information (Reports) Received.

	1893.	1894.
Reports from correspondents and agencies.....	10,641	9,733
Statements received.....	3,410	3,662

In 1893 we sent to our members 6072 inquiries for information, and in 1894 we sent out 6252 slips. During the year 1894, 1278 letters were written in this department against 1207 written in 1893; to our members 8640 weekly circulars have been furnished during the year 1894. This department was used by 168 members in 1894.

COLLECTION DEPARTMENT.

In this department there have been received during the year 3474 claims for collection, aggregating the sum of $200,582.79; of this sum collections to the amount of $79,620.79 have passed through the office. Of the claims received during 1894, and on our books from previous years, 2605 were sent to attorney; 392 closed through office; 721 closed through attorneys; 608 settled direct with creditors; 416 returned uncollectable; 199 transferred to Failure and Assignment Department; 64 put in judgment 1894; from previous years 812 in judgment, making a total of 5005 claims disposed of and leaving 2738 in process of settlement; this includes all unsettled claims on our books. There have been 25,088 letters written—15,206 letters received.

FAILURE AND ASSIGNMENT DEPARTMENT.

In this department during the year there have been received 441 cases, consisting of 1844 claims aggregating $327,064.99. On January 1 1894, there were 564 cases unsettled, which with the 441 received during the year, makes a total of 1005 cases; of these, 25 cases have been closed by payment in full; 86 cases have been closed by assignee; 3 cases closed by extension; 2 cases settled direct with creditors; 76 cases settled by compromise; 169 cases closed as worthless; 119 claims put in judgment, representing 53 cases, making a total of 414 disposed of, and leaving in process of adjustment 591 cases.

There has been paid to the creditors in this department $80,616.63, exclusive of amounts paid direct. There has been 12,056 letters written—11,756 letters received; 7510 circulars issued to creditors; in addition to those already mentioned, there have been 422 general letters received and 608 general letters written.

There has been received and disbursed, both by the Collection and Failure and Assignment Departments, the sum of $160,237.42. The books and accounts have been audited monthly and found correct.

The unusual number under the head of worthless claims has been caused partly by the clearing the books of some long-standing cases, and in some instances by the preferences allowed in many States; it is therefore to be hoped that before long Congress will relieve the business community from such unjust laws by the passage of an equitable bankruptcy law.

We closed the year with a balance in the treasurer's hands of $196.77, and interest due us from the Trust Company of $50, also dues uncollected, $180.

The following were elected trustees to serve during the present year: James C. Aikin, of Aikin, Lambert & Co.; C. A. Appleton, of D. Appleton & Co.; Henry C. Bainbridge, of Chas. T. Bainbridge's Sons; Zenas Crane, of Z. & W. M. Crane; Chas. F. Chichester, of The Century Co.; Louis De Jonge, Jr., of Louis De Jonge & Co.; Charles T. Dillingham; Patrick Farrelly, of the American News Co.; A. J. C. Foye, of the Joseph Dixon Crucible Co.; Robert Gair; Oscar R. Houghton, of Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; C. S. Kiggins, of Kiggins & Tooker Co.; Amos M. Lyon; Charles McLoughlin, of McLoughlin Bros.; George L. Pease, of Boorum & Pease Co.; Emil Strobel, of Strobel & Wilkins Co.; Frank Squier, of Perkins, Goodwin & Co.; and Frank W. Wood, of J. B. Lippincott Co. The trustees will meet at a later date to elect the officers of the Board.

The annual dinner of the Board will be given at Delmonico's, New York, on Thursday evening, February 7. The price for the tickets has been fixed at $7 each.

THE THIRD ANNUAL SCRIBNER DINNER.

THE Third Annual Scribner Dinner was held at the St. Denis Hotel, on Friday evening, December 28. Fifty-one members of the staff were present (sixteen more than at the previous dinner), and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Mr. Henry L. Smith acted as chairman, and contributed largely to the pleasure of the occasion by the happy manner in which he presided and introduced the various speakers. In his opening remarks he reviewed briefly the affairs of the house during the past year, chief among which was the removal to the new Scribner building on Fifth Avenue, and closed with the reading of a humorous sketch, "How They Make Books at Scribners," which had been prepared by the Dinner Committee.

The first speaker on the programme was Mr. R. C. Stolle, whose subject "The Ghost of Christmas Past" gave him an opportunity to recall some pleasant reminiscences of previous Scribner dinners. He was followed by Mr. W. C. Brownell on "Scribner's Authors by one of them." The theme was treated with abundance of wit, and brought out many playful allusions to various members of the staff. Mr. Arthur H. Scribner then responded for the firm in a few words, replying also for his brother, Mr. Charles Scribner, who was unavoidably absent. He expressed his pleasure in participating in these annual reunions, and commented on the good fellowship and success that had always attended them. Then followed in succession Mr. E. T. S. Lord, who spoke from personal experience on "The Educational Man;" Mr. J. A. Tyson, who portrayed in satirical form "The Posthumous Experiences of a Book Clerk," and Mr. E. W. Morse, whose contribution was the singing of an original romantic ballad, "The Earl and the Yankee Maid," the words of which were written by Mr. Robert Bridges, and the music composed by Mr. W. D. Moffat, who accompanied the singer.

Mr. W. S. Moody next favored the company with a racy characterization of "The Book Buyer as it is not," and was succeeded by Mr. H. S. Virtue with some remarks on "The Humors of Subscription Bookselling," and by Mr. J. B. Carrington, of the magazine department, who told some very amusing stories about the singular literary productions offered to the periodicals of the day. At this point a surprise was introduced in the unexpected appearance of Mr. F. H. Schauffler, one of the staff, who impersonated an Eastern juggler in full costume, and performed some very clever tricks. A speech by Mr. O. W. Brewer, on the experiences of a commercial traveller, with anecdotes to match, and two original topical songs with choruses by Mr. Tyson, entitled "He is a Scribner Man" and "At Scribners," which were led by Mr. J. A. Mix, brought to an end a very enjoyable programme.

The menu contained a picture of "A Scribner Christmas Tree," a list of those present at the dinner, and a mock bill of fare introducing the publications of the house. The names of the speakers and their topics were arranged in the form of a book advertisement, with imaginary review notices attached.

The Dinner Committee consisted of F. H. Marling chairman, F. N. Doubleday, E. D. North, L. P. Starr, and H. L. Smith.

GREAT MEN AND FAMOUS WOMEN.

UNDER the above title Selmar Hess of New York City, has begun the serial publication of a work to be completed in sixty-eight parts, designed to be bound in four large quarto volumes. Every number will contain a photogravure, of which thirty-four have been made at the establishment of Goupil & Co., Paris, and the remainder at the ateliers of Franz Hanfstaengel, Munich, and of the Berlin Photograph Company. Besides the very fine photogravures there will be upwards of one hundred full-page wood-engravings and illustrations in half-tone and many embellishments of head and tail pieces, borders, etc. The work will be printed on paper manufactured expressly for the purpose, and every detail will be watched to insure the perfect manufacture of a fine artwork. The text of the biographies of upwards of 250 famous men and women has been entrusted with equal care to reliable and specially competent hands. Soldiers and sailors, statesmen and sages, workmen and heroes, artists and authors are to be described by some of the best-known writers of the day. As a guarantee of this statement the publisher announces that Prof. Boyesen, Walter Besant, Clarence Cook, Edgar Fawcett, H. Rider Haggard, Justin McCarthy, Charlotte M. Yonge, Albion W. Tourgée, Andrew Lang, Cardinal Gibbons, Henry George, Edward Everett Hale, "Oliver Optic," Elbridge S. Brooks, George Parsons Lathrop, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Elizabeth Robbins Pennell, and fifty others of almost equal variety of talent and practised workmanship will deal with their contemporaries and rivals and show their strength and weakness. For the famous men and women of former years even higher talent has been drawn upon, and the names of Louis Agassiz, Hans Christian Andersen, Fénelon, James A. Froude, Gladstone, Harriet Martineau and Walter Scott will be found attached respectively to the sketches of Humboldt, Thorwaldsen, Socrates, Caius Marius, Homer, Pestalozzi, and Molière. Altogether this promises to be a representative undertaking on a plan that will insure a good work of reference. The work will be sold by subscription, and only orders for the complete work will be accepted.

POSTAL MATTERS.

REDUCTION IN FOREIGN RATES AND OTHER IMPROVEMENTS.

SEVERAL important plans for improving the postal service have just become operative. The principal one is the general reduction of postage rates for Cape Colony, Orange Free States and all other countries not embraced in the universal postal union.

Under the provisions of the new scheme all countries will now enjoy uniform rates, except Canada and Mexico, for which special rates have long been in vogue. The change results in a reduction of rates for ordinary mails from 10 to 5 cents on half ounces, and for newspapers from 2 to 1 cent for two ounces.

The new arrangement for facilitating foreign mails from Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, and St. Louis have also gone into operation. This allows the present system of having the regular mails handled and way-billed at the New York office, but also provides for sending additional mails by later trains which leave in time to make direct connections with steamers, messengers to be stationed at the depots to carry the mails direct to the vessels, instead of allowing the delay incurred by the regular mails in going through the New York city office.

A change in the series of the newspaper and periodical stamps will go into operation at once, involving general changes in denominations and in colors, though maintaining the general characteristics. The new denominations are 1, 2, 3, 5, 10, 20, 25, 50 cents, and $1.

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

THE STANLEY BRADLEY PUBLISHING COMPANY, in the Supreme Court, on the 9th inst. got an injunction from Justice Barrett to restrain Mrs. Frank Leslie from using electrotypes of certain cuts in "Frank Leslie's Illustrated History of the Civil War," that are claimed as the property of the plaintiff.

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, JR., administrator of the property of his father, the late Dr. Holmes, by his attorneys filed a bill in the United States Circuit Court on the 4th inst., to secure an injunction restraining the firm of Donohue, Henneberry & Co., of Chicago, from publishing an edition of "The Autocrat of the Breakfast-Table." The bill charges that since January 1 the firm has been printing and selling an edition of the work which is an infringement of the copyright.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MRS. HUMPHRY WARD will not accompany her husband to this country as was at first announced, but will spend the winter in Italy instead.

MRS. LYNN LINTON has finished a new book, called "The Evolution of Dulcie Everton." It will probably make its appearance in serial form.

ANTHONY HOPE'S new series of short stories, entitled "The Chronicles of Count Antonio," will be published serially early this year, in Chambers' Journal, in America in a syndicate of newspapers, and in Australia in one of the Melbourne weeklies.

A LARGE gathering of literary men and women took place at the Carnegie Music Hall, in New York, on the evening of the 4th inst., under the auspices of the "Uncut Leaves" Society, to do honor to the memory of Robert Louis Stevenson. Among the speakers were E. C. Stedman, Andrew Carnegie, Edward Eggleston, David Christie Murray, George W. Cable, and John Foord. Scotch songs were sung by Leonard E. Auty, the well-known ballad singer, and Nelson Wheatcroft read selections from Stevenson's works.

THE proposed testimonial to the Rev. S. F. Smith, author of the national hymn "America," is beginning to take definite shape. Mr. E. A. Grozier, the proprietor of the Boston Post, is the newly appointed secretary of the Committee of Six, that will probably carry the matter forward to a successful conclusion. It is now expected that the Marine Band of Washington will take part in the exercises of the occasion, which will probably be set for the latter part of January. The report that Mr. Smith is in destitute circumstances has been denied by his son.

STEPHEN ROPER, once in affluent circumstances, an author whose works have made him known all over the country, but who is now in a condition bordering on pauperism, is a patient at the City Hospital in St. Louis, Mo. He is suffering with bronchial troubles. He is 71 years of age and the city physicians believe the chances for his recovery are small. Roper has been in St. Louis for some time. He was taken to the hospital from a cheap boarding-house, where he was an inmate until his money ran out. He is not only entitled to distinction as an author, but as an engineer as well. It is said that he was the first writer in this country to prepare a series of practical handbooks for the instruction and information of American engineers.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Local Bookseller is the title of a neat little sheet issued by Geo. H. Colby & Co., Lancaster, N. H., for distribution among their customers.

L. J. B. LINCOLN, the president of the "Uncut Leaves" Society, has begun the issue of a "monthly letter of advance criticism and literary information." The first number consists of twelve pages of comment upon the doings of literary folk in New York and elsewhere.

Geyer's Stationer, which has just entered upon the nineteenth year of its existence, starts in a new and improved form, with a weekly issue instead of, as heretofore, semi-monthly. We congratulate our contemporary on its handsome appearance and trust that it will be justified in its new departure.

The American, the very ably-edited Philadelphia journal, devoted to literature, the arts, sciences, and public affairs, that suspended publication in 1891, has, we are pleased to note, resumed publication. The American in its early days sustained a high literary standard, and deserved to succeed. We hope it will meet with better luck on its new start. Among the names of the contributors to the first new issue we remark that of Henry Carey Baird, who discusses "The New 'Wild-Cat' Schemes."

WARD, LOCK & BOWDEN will shortly begin the publication in London of a periodical similar to Chap-Book. It is to be handsomely produced on good paper, well printed, and will contain many illustrations by R. Anning Bell, Hugh Thomson, Caton Woodville, Stanley J. Wood, Herbert Railton, and other artists. The name which has been selected is the Paper Knife, and it will be a literary far more than an advertising publication. The first number will contain a portrait of George Meredith, with a reprint of part of Mr. J. M. Barrie's article on the "Lost Stories of Mr. Meredith;" a selection from the recently published "Thoughts from Gladstone," with portrait; and also a selection from Miss Willard's promised autobiography, with a full-page portrait of Miss Willard, by Miss Lisa Cameron; a portrait of the author of "A Sunless Heart," with Mr. Stead's article on the book which appeared recently in the Review of Reviews, and many other interesting portraits and items.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

J. S. HYLAND & Co., Chicago, have published a "Life of Mary Mulholland," written by a Sister of Mercy.

THE CATHEDRAL LIBRARY, New York, has just issued a fourth and enlarged edition of the late Brother Azarias' "Books and Reading."

A COMMITTEE of the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association is making arrangements for an Author's Reading, to be given probably in Chickering Hall, March next.

J. M. DENT & Co. have in preparation a new edition of Balzac's novels, under the editorship of Mr. George Saintsbury, who is writing a general introduction to the series and a shorter one to each novel. The edition will run to thirty volumes.

JOHN GLENN, who has represented Marcus Ward & Co., Ltd., in the United States for the past six years, has severed his connection with that house. Alfred Ireland continues as heretofore their principal representative and manager in America.

GINN & Co. will publish next month a work on "Molecules and the Molecular Theory of Matter," by A. D. Ristein, who treats the subject from a physical standpoint. The work will be illustrated with about fifty cuts, and some of the more difficult points in the text are discussed in an appendix.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have in preparation a new novel by Augusta Campbell Watson, entitled "Off Lynport Light;" also a new volume by George H. Hepworth, entitled "Brown Studies, or, camp-fires and morals," which is in a new vein for that writer, and is expected to attract some attention.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. have just ready in the Riverside Literature Series "A Selection from Whittier's Child-Life in Poetry," "A Selection from Whittier's Child-Life in Prose," and "Milton's L'Allegro, Il Pensero, and Other Poems," the latter containing all the poems of Milton required for admission to the leading colleges.

THE annual dinner of the Typothetae of New York, in honor of Benjamin Franklin, will take place at the Hotel Brunswick on January 17. Charlton T. Lewis will answer to the principal toast, and speeches will also be made by the Rev. Dr. Newland Maynard, Hopkinson Smith, Mayor Stuart of Philadelphia, Henry Watterson, Warner Miller, and Will Carleton.

WALTER H. BAKER & Co., Boston, have just issued Arthur W. Pinero's play in four acts, entitled "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," which has been so widely discussed since first introduced to the American public last winter, with Mrs. Kendal in the title rôle. Mr. Pinero's plays have literary merit, and can be read with pleasure as well as enjoyed on the stage. The publishers have made a neat book, well printed, and bound in stiff-paper covers.

STONE & KIMBALL, Chicago, have just ready the first three volumes of "The Works of Edgar Allan Poe," in ten volumes, newly collected, edited and for the first time revised after the author's final manuscript corrections, by Edmund Clarence Stedman and George Edward Woodberry, with many portraits, facsimiles, and pictures by Albert Edward Sterner; also, Ibsen's latest work, "Little Eyolf," translated by William Archer.

THREE years ago Dr. Wright, of St. Paul, Minn., published a brief sketch of the "Early Bibles of America," in a slender duodecimo. The little volume awakened so much interest that the author has been led to prepare an exhaustive history of the subject, which Thomas Whittaker, of New York, will publish at once. In its biographical as well as bibliographical aspect, it bids fair to be valuable to bibliophiles, especially to those interested in Americana. The new work will contain nearly five hundred pages and thirty-three illustrations.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish shortly the fourth and last volume of the beautiful illustrated edition of John Richard Green's "Short History of the English People." The pictures—most of them contemporary—do much to increase the realism of the narrative. The portraits, especially, are of the greatest value. The illustrations of trades are delightful to the antiquary. Among the illustrations of the French Revolution are a medal, commemorating the General Confederation in the Champ de Mars in 1790, and J. Gillray's satirical caricature of Fox, "The Tree of Liberty, with the Devil tempting John Bull."

A BOOK of great interest to students of abnormal psychical manifestations has been prepared by Abram H. Dailey, giving a statement of facts from the testimony of many witnesses regarding the case of Mary J. Fancher, who for nearly thirty years has been a psychological marvel. Miss Fancher, whose home is in Brooklyn, met with a fall in 1866, which injured her spinal column. Shortly after she had an acute attack of lung trouble and the doctors despaired of her life. She passed into a state of trance, and since, spasms and trances have never left her. She has lost almost all faculties, but still seems to feel and know, by some occult power, all that concerns those in whom she is interested. Many experts have studied her case. The present volume is written to help towards her maintenance, her father having recently died.

MACMILLAN & Co. have decided to issue a series of European Statesmen, similar in form, size, and scope to the Twelve English Statesmen. The new series will be edited by Prof. J. B. Bury. The following volumes are now in hand: "Charles the Great," by Thomas Hodgkin; "William the Silent," by Frederic Harrison; "Richelieu," by Prof. R. Lodge; "Mazarin," by A. Hassall; and "Maria Theresa," by Dr. J. Franck Bright. There will also be volumes on Ferdinand the Catholic, Charles v., Peter the Great, Frederick the Great, Catharine II., Napoleon, Cavour, and others. They also announce a work on "Mental Development in the Child and the Race—methods and processes," by Prof. J. Mark Baldwin, of Princeton; "The Life and Letters of R. W. Church, late Dean of St. Paul's;" also, a day-book, somewhat on the order of the "Imitatio Christi," made up of quotations from various authors, and arranged so that each quotation carries on the thought of the preceding one, the whole of each "chapter" being grouped under a "text" compiled by Dr. Stanton Coit, who may probably be remembered from his lectures in connection with the University Settlement in New York and elsewhere.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamp with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as "not having been received."

Everybody Interested in Municipal Reform will want it.

Municipal Government in Great Britain.

By ALBERT SHAW.

A MOST IMPORTANT, TIMELY, AND SUGGESTIVE WORK.

AT the present time, when the problem of municipal government is confronting the people of so many American cities, no more important book could be put forth than this thoughtful work.

In presenting the facts which he has gathered with so much care, Dr. Shaw says that he has no intention to prescribe European remedies for American maladies, nor to suggest any degree whatsoever of imitation. He believes, however, that we may gain enlightenment from the experience of others. "The art of making and administering modern cities seems not to have engaged the attention of the same order of talent in America that it has commanded in Europe."

Dr. Shaw discusses the sanitary and street-cleaning conditions and laws of the most important cities and towns of Great Britain, including London, Manchester, Birmingham, Glasgow, and many smaller places. He describes how epidemics are met, tenements made less crowded, the refuse cared for, pipes laid in streets, and treats of electric and gas lighting, disinfecting, street-sprinkling, swimming-baths, sewerage, markets, fire and police departments, finances, free libraries, parks, etc.

In one 12mo volume, 385 pages, with full appendices, index, etc. Price, $2.00.

ANNIE BESANT

AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY.

WITH PORTRAITS AND OTHER ILLUSTRATIONS

368 Pages, 12mo, Cloth, $2.00.

The writer has been successively a Christian, a Theist, an Atheist, a Materialist, a Socialist, and now a Theosophist; in which latest faith she claims to have found peace and rest.

"No one, however divergent his own beliefs and opinions may be, can doubt Mrs. Besant's absolute sincerity or refuse to admit that she has ever shrunk from intervening, at whatever cost to herself, in any conflict where she could strike a blow for the cause of the weak and the oppressed."—Pall Mall Gazette, London.
